

FALL, 2010 Internship Opportunity

The Perishable Foods Council (PCF) Internship Opportunity Program allows college students to earn credits or experience while observing and participating with member companies. The fall, 2010 internship will include eight site visits and is limited six regular interns, three from SJSU, three from UC Davis. We will have one alternate intern from each school, too.

The purpose of the internship is to offer a sampling of our food industry to include retail grocer, manufacturing, distribution, and value added opportunities such as viticulture. This opportunity is open to students who are considering a career in the food industry and want investigate a direction to join our industry. Tours are on Tuesdays and most of the day is required for travel to the sites. For each tour you will arrive at 1:30 PM and depart by 4:30 PM. Tour letters will be sent the previous Wednesday and give you all directions, tour goals, and attire.

Proposed sites include: Stipends for regular interns of $ 200.00 and $ 100.00 will be awarded to cover travel expenses.
